Klara,

This is a reminder that my first Math Jobs application is due on October 15. You should have seen a few other emails from external sites requesting that you upload your letter. Please let me know if you need a complete list. Are you still good with that first deadline?

Klara,

Great! Thank you so much for putting this together for me on short notice. You are now in the system with MathJobs. Do you need any other documents or application materials for me to write the letter?

Maxie,

Ok. I probably won't get to writing it until the long weekend, but I can have it by the 15th.

Klara,

I spoke with Sal over email. He thinks you will be able to write me the better letter. Can I go ahead and add your contact information to Math Jobs? The first application is due on 10/15/21. I know this is short notice. I really appreciate it though. My application materials are attached. Please let me know if the timeline is feasible for you.

Klara,

Sorry for the delayed response. I have been dealing with a kidney infection this week that has left me down, out and exhausted.

I think I will ask Sal to write the letter. Is it possible for you to communicate with him about your scores evaluating me teaching this summer? He hasn't observed me teach in a while.

Hi Maxie,

That is exciting that you are looking for jobs. I hope the job search will go well.

I am not sure if I would be the best person to write a letter for you. If you need me to do so, I can write one, but please keep in mind that I would have to include teaching evaluations/scores from students and past instructors in my letter.

Best wishes,
Klara

Klara,

Can you write me a solid letter about my teaching experience for my MathJobs postdoc application materials. I am also asking Sal Barone the same question as he selected me for the Math1552 head TA position I held in 2018. You have mentored me the most recently for my GSI position this summer. Please keep in mind that I added a substantial amount of information to catalog the course on the shared page including complete sets of annotated lecture slides. I also modified your slides in PPT this summer for both Hamed and I to use with custom artwork templates and extra problems for students:

Anything nice or relevant you can say here in a short letter is appreciated to add breadth to my postdoc applications. I can also show you copies of my CV, application combined research + teaching philosophy statements, and other materials.

Please let me know if you think you can write me a solid teaching reference.

Thank you,

Maxie
